INTRO

Hi, I'm Sérgio Neves, a former geologist who turned full stack developer. After completing a Master's degree, I left the world of rocks behind and embarked on a new adventure, discovering my passion for programming. I've applied for an intensive full stack bootcamp and found my true calling. Today, I'm a highly skilled and motivated developer with 5 years of experience dedicated to creating innovative solutions to real-world problems. If you're looking for a talented developer who is passionate about making a difference, look no further.

EXPERIENCE

SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

BOLD, Lisbon | FEV 2021 - PRESENT

I'm currently working on a project for the group Crédit Agricole, and my daily tasks include technical analysis and development of an application for the banking area. The technological stake is mainly Java.

FULL STACK DEVELOPER

Celfocus, Lisbon | JAN 2018 - DEZ 2020

The two main projects that I worked on at Celfocus included mainly the technological stacks of Java Groovy, Hibernate, Oracle Database, and using MVC, for a project at Vodafone UK, and using javaScript with VueJs for Adobe Experience Manager in a project for Vodafone PT, building their current eShop. The work methodology for both projects was agile.

EDUCATION
